

World AIDS Day Education for GPs

ASHM is once again holding a series of educational dinners for GPs, Practice Nurses and Allied Health Professionals in collaboration with the divisions of general practice as a World AIDS Day and AIDS Awareness Week initiative.

The objective of these evenings is to equip GPs across NSW to better identify HIV and make referrals in a primary care setting.

Dinners are being held in Port Macquarie, Coogee, Parramatta, and Ballina in November and December - for further details on these dinners visit:
